Digital planning, troubleshooting and tissue engineering are today’s top topics in implantology. The mission of ICOI is to serve the needs of all members, including each segment of the dental implant team, and to provide them with high quality education to better serve their patients. Hence, the mission of the Hamburg World Congress is to provide the most cutting-edge information that will enable you to deal with the challenges that practitioners of implantology face today.

Tabletop and Poster Presentations

This competition provides the perfect forum for delegates to interact with colleagues in a social, yet instructive manner.

The 27th ICOI World Congress will be an excellent opportunity to see the most up-to-date technologies in the field of dental medicine.

Dear Colleagues:
The ICOI is pleased to welcome all dental professionals to Hamburg, Germany for the 2010 World Congress XXVII meeting. The focus of this meeting will be emerging issues such as digital planning for proper implant placement, implant complications and their management, tissue engineering for predictable bone regeneration, new innovations in implant therapy and predictable implant esthetics, etc. Concepts for success will be presented by leading clinicians and members of our scientific community. All presentations will illustrate their views in these assigned subjects and then, hopefully, support them with appropriate evidence. We can assure you will enjoy this meeting. We look forward to seeing you in Hamburg.

Dr Hom-Lay Wang and Dr Georg Bayer, Congress Chairmen.

Forum for “Young Implantologists”

There will also be a forum for “Young Implantologists” with a two-hour slot on the main podium. This popular feature provides up and coming speakers the opportunity to present case studies to the entire Congress; it will take place on Saturday morning.

Poster Presentation

A significant number of international clinicians and academicians will take part in the Table Clinic and Poster Presentation competition which will take place during the Welcome Reception on Thursday evening, 26 August. Posters will remain in place throughout the Congress.

The ICOI Scientific Program Committee will consider the following categories for Table Top Clinic and Poster Presentations:

- a) Basic science and/or clinical research
- b) Clinical applications, techniques or tips
- c) Laboratory applications, techniques or tips

Those interested in presenting during this portion of the program should email requests to Dr Avi Schetritt at dravi@perio.org.

Auxiliary Program

ICOI’s Member Society, the Association of Dental Implant Auxiliaries (ADIA), will hold a full-day course for staff members on Friday, 27 August.

The ADIA Symposium is aimed at providing information essential to dental assistants working with implant patients. The program will evaluate the interaction of implant patients and team members and review methods the team can apply to help guide patients through implant therapy and its various components. The program will address all aspects of implantology including case presentation, answers to commonly asked questions, treatment planning, surgical, prosthetic and maintenance procedures. The Friday Auxiliary session for the ADIA Certification Program will take place on Saturday morning.

The social program will include the Welcome Reception on Thursday night and a Harbor Party aboard the ship, Rickmer Rickmers on Friday night. The Awards Ceremony, honoring ICOI and DGOI advanced credentialed members will precede the Friday dinner party.

Exhibiting

Exhibition will introduce innovative products in implantology. Companies interested in exhibiting at this Congress should visit ICOI’s web site www.icoi.org or the Congress site www.worldonc®es-2010.com.

Hamburg—the Gateway to the World

The second largest port in Germany and in Europe, Hamburg is often called the Gateway to the World. This cosmopolitan city is located on the Elbe River which feeds into the North Sea. While parts of the city overlook Alster Lake with its promenades, elegant shops, hotels and restaurants, Hamburg also boasts a large canal system increasing its commercial reach and adding to the European charm. A cultural center, Hamburg boasts 50 art museums, several opera companies and musical theaters and is home to the famous St. Pauli Entertainment region.
